

Newsletter Education - December 2011

Christmas is coming up! Have you thought about any good New Year's Resolutions? We have a few suggestions for you: Read here what UEGF offers in terms of continuous education and you are sorted for 2012!

—○ OLGa Online Learning in Gastroenterology

OLGa CRC Course

Continuous Education from your home! Save on flight and accommodation costs! Catch the first OLGa E-Course on Colorectal Cancer and gain 5 CME Credits! You are just one click away from a state of the art training course on colorectal cancer from leading experts in Gastroenterology.

More information

UEGW 2011 Webcasts now online on OLGa

Unhappy with the TV Programme over Christmas? No need to worry - we have the solution: Over 60 hours of recorded lectures from UEGW 2011 that you can view on our online learning platform OLGa. For UEGW 2011 Delegates this access is free; for all those who did not go to Stockholm this year, a great Christmas present? More information or send an email to olga@uegf.org

—○ Workshops & Courses

This was the 1st UEGF EBM Practice Course

42 enthusiastic gastroenterologists from all over Europe came to Vienna this December, not to visit Christmas markets but to learn about Evidence Based Medicine. In four modules delegates were taught from leading EBM experts how to search for evidence efficiently, critically appraise study results and conclusions and integrate them into their daily routine. This successful new UEGF teaching format will be repeated again in April (26-28) and October (during UEGW) next year. Watch out for a call that will be sent to your National Society soon. If you would like to know more about this course go to our website or send an email to office@uegf.org.

Innovative Teaching Methods

Great Networking Opportunities

Application for legendary Summer School in Prague is now open!

Join young trainees from all over Europe and beyond who gather in the capital of the Czech Republic to receive an overview of major topics of clinical gastroenterology and hepatology presented to them by a top faculty. The 9th Summer School has proven to be an outstanding educational event that combines superior teaching content, great networking possibilities and the tourist charme of Prague that cannot be missed by gastroenterology fellows. Hurry now and apply online until January 31, 2012! Read more

Young Investigators' Meeting 2012 – Apply now

We are pleased to announce another Young Investigators' Meeting to be held from April 13-15, 2012, at the House of European Gastroenterology in Vienna, Austria. This course is intended for young starting investigators in the fields of Gastroenterology and Hepatology. The YIM course aims to provide participants with skills to critically assess information from published research articles. In addition participants will develop basic statistical knowledge and reasoning skills, and get insight into all steps needed to do a good study. Application is open until February 10, 2012! Read more

Basic Science Workshop on "Epithelial ion transports in the GI tract"

July 12-15, 2012: Szeged, Hungary

Apply now for this unique teaching activity with outstanding programme and world leading faculty. 30 promising investigators will be selected to participate and will receive travel reimbursement and free accommodation in Szeged. You want to secure your space now?

Go to our website to read more about application procedure and apply until March 4, 2012.

Rising Stars 2012

UEGF gives young researchers a durable platform on the international stage and congratulates the Rising Stars 2012:

Juan-Gonzalez ABRALDES, Spain
Tom-Hemming KARLSEN, Norway
Antonio MOSCHETTA, Italy
Iris NAGTEGAAL, The Netherlands
Zoltan RAKONCZAY, Hungary
Lukas VAN OUDENHOVE, Belgium
Christoph WELSCH, Germany
Syn WING-KING, United Kingdom

2 Rising Stars of 2011 (B. Eksteen and R. Weersma) at DDW in Chicago

Read more about the Rising Star Initiative!

—○ Training Support

You want to organise your own course and look for funding? Then apply for UEGF Training Support! Plenty of funding opportunities waiting for your promising educational initiative!

Applicants submitting for 2013 can apply online until May 1, 2012. Read more

Member Activities: ESGE/ESDO Quality in Endoscopy, May 4-5 Berlin

Registration is now open for this UEGF supported course jointly organized by UEGF Member Societies ESGE and ESDO. This course is aimed at the younger generation who are interested in taking home state of the art knowledge on colonoscopy and colonic neoplasms through lectures, case discussion, lively debates, and social networking. The scientific committee has produced a comprehensive programme and has picked a faculty that consists of leaders in this field. More information regarding the programme, faculty and abstract submission may also be found on the Course Website or by writing an email info@quality-in-endoscopy.org.

